▶ DISCUSSION

Dr. Green states that validation is something that every male needs to receive in their life, beginning early on in their development.

- Do you feel you received validation early on in your life?
- If so, from who?
- Are there stand out moments you remember receiving validation that helped to shape you into the man you are today?

When a young man does not receive validation, they typically revert to rebellion or conformity. Dr. Green says we create projections of ourselves that we think the world wants to see.

- Did you go through a period of rebellion or conformity in your adolescence?
- What type of projection of yourself did you create?
- Looking back, why do you think the world wanted to see those specific projections?

Dr. Green shares the good news is that we are not destined to be stuck in that identity void forever. We can change and there is restoration for all of us. The lays out the steps to achieve this change:

Step 1: Honesty

Step 2: Repentance

Step 3: Development of a new pattern

- Where are you on your restoration journey?
- What can we do as your brothers in Christ to help you on your journey?
